REPORT ISSUANCE DATE 31.01.2026

Comment from the fund manager

Romet Enok

On 28 January, the LHV Eurobonds Fund marked one year since it began investing activity. Net return for the first year was 2.71%.

As the graph shows, the last 12 months saw very limited price movements. In such conditions, the fund's result depends on stable interest income earned on the bonds. Additional profit presupposes price movements, which in our experience do exist in sufficient numbers over a longer period. In January, with the fund's cash position increasing, we added one new investment into the portfolio, buying short-term Swedbank bonds. As noted previously, the three principal types of assets in the fund remain unchanged and are currently:

- 1) covered bonds (specific securities issued by banks and secured by mortgage loans);
- 2) large Scandinavian companies;
- 3) large banks in the Western world.

After a slightly weaker autumn and early winter, January was very active on the market. New bonds were sold at a record pace and prices also started to rise. The fund's net return in January was +0.42%.
