The aggregate risk indicator indicates the product's risk level compared to other products. This shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of market developments or because we are unable to pay you. We have assigned this product a risk class of 4 out of 7, which is an average risk class. This means that the potential loss from future developments is average and that the possibility that poor market conditions will affect our ability to pay you is also average. This product does not include protection against market risk, which means that you may lose some or all of your investment.

The risk indicator assumes that you will hold the product for 3 years. The actual risk of withdrawing your money at an early stage can change significantly and you may get less money back.

Costs over time

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they will affect your investment over time.

Below are the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how long you will hold the product and the return of the fund. In the first year, you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). In the case of holding until the end of the holding period (3 years), we have assumed an investment of 10,000 EUR and the return is based on the return shown in the moderate scenario.

	If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 3 years
Total costs	224 EUR	686 EUR
Annual cost impact	2.24%	1.26% each year

This illustrates how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example, it shows that if you exit at the recommended holding period, your average return per year is projected to be 5.79% before costs and 3.55% after costs.
